

Huaraz-Trek to Lake Churup

Day One

Early in the morning, we will pick you up at your hotel and take you out towards the Cordillera Blanca. The trip takes about one hour's drive until we arrive in the village of Pitec (3,800m) which is our trailhead.

The trek it's fairly steep ascent but all on well-established trails and there is nothing technical to worry about. Three hours later we will climb over the last ridge (4,450m) and gaze down at the beautiful clear glacial waters of Laguna Churup.

We will take a break at the peak of the glaciers take time for our lunch. After lunch we will be exploring some of the side trails from the lake before we head back to Pitec where our transportation will be waiting to take us back to Huaraz.

Price per person:

The price of $145.00 US includes the following:

- All transfers to/from Huaraz
- The services of a guide for the duration of the trek
- Lunch on the trek
